Consulting Programs

Two Consulting Programs to meet your specific needs

For each consulting program, Aviva Solutions provides the option of pre-defined or customized consulting programs. Our pre-defined consulting programs provide a suite of the most commonly-required services and support, while customized consulting is tailored to your customer's specific integration and implementation needs.

Developer Assist Consulting Program is a pre-defined program offering you guidance with and application development and application integration.

Application Development (Product Code # CHR-138-01): We will help you develop applications and assist you in reviewing code, as well as provide code writing samples upon request.

Application Integration (Product Code # CHR-132-01) Our consultants will help you review requirements, develop, complete and deploy solutions.

Deployment Assist Consulting Program offers you pre-defined consulting packages including installation and configuration, migration, and security assistance services.

Aviva Solutions' consultants efficiently transfer knowledge to your staff to ensure rapid deployment of solutions to your customers. We offer on-site configuration and set-up services to ensure seamless integration into your environment.

Installation and Configuration Services (Product Code # CHR-134-01): Our consultants provide on-site assistance to efficiently and effectively install and configure Aviva Solutions' products.

Migration Services (Product Code # CHR-137-01): Our consultants will migrate your existing configuration files and macros to run with the latest versions of Aviva Solutions' products with minimum downtime and work disruption.

Security Assistance Services (Product Code # CHR-131-01): Includes assistance with installation and configuration for Aviva Security Redirector and Aviva Web-to-host security solutions.
